Barcelona, Spain

Sunday, June 3
BARCELONA

Barcelona's ancient port has a whole new avant-garde look with inviting seaside cafes. Christopher Colon's statue greets you. The city is spread before you; a walk up the main artery of Las Ramblas gives you the immediate feel for this creative and active city. It was the home of Picasso, Miró, Dali, and Casals and has been described as a Mediterranean Manhattan, a cosmopolitan experimental center for artistic movements. The capital of Catalonia, Barcelona celebrates its history and its Greek, Phoenician, Roman, Gothic and Arab cultural legacies. Visit the Barri Gotic, the ancient medieval quarter, and the mix of Romanesque and Gothic treasure. See the fabulous Picasso Museum and the Opera House.

Monday, June 4
At Sea – Seminar

The journey begins, blending an educational experience with countless shipboard activities.

Granada, Spain

Tuesday, June 5
MÁLAGA

The center of Spain's Costa del Sol invites you to all the sunny pleasures, beaches, golf courses, and the jetset resort playgrounds. Málaga lies some 70 miles inside the straits of Gibraltar along the sun-drenched coast. Travel to the picturesque village of Ronda nearby and see the enchanting Andalucian countryside. A ride through orchards of almond and olive trees takes you to the Moorish splendors of Granada, with its incomparable Alhambra palace.

Wednesday, June 6
CASABLANCA

Morocco's "Great White City" is one of the largest harbors in Africa. Centuries old, Casablanca nestles on the Atlantic coast; this is Morocco's largest city and principal port. Awaiting your discovery is a timeless blend of Arabic culture and French sophistication. You can explore the city's intriguing blend of the old and the new. Shopping in the overflowing stalls of the exotic souks is incomparable. Who doesn't want to go to Rick's American Bar and remember the spirits of Bergman and Bogart?

Souks (market) in Morocco

At Sea

Time seems to pass more pleasantly on the Crystal Symphony than just about anywhere else on earth. The ship is rich in wonderful things to do.

Friday, June 8
LISBON

Lisbon, Portugal

It is really several cities in one, spread over seven hills overlooking the Tagus River. Lisbon contains narrow medieval alleys in the ancient Alfama, broad Parisian-style boulevards and modern shopping districts. Two jewels of the Manueline architecture: Belém Tower and Jerónimos Monastery where Vasco de Gama is entombed. You must see the fairytale town of Sintra and experience a night of fado while in Portugal.

BORDEAUX (Day 2)

Bordeaux traces its origins back to the third century when it was Aquitaine's Roman capital. It prospered under English rule because of their fondness for claret. Bordeaux's neo-classical architecture, wide avenues and well-tended public squares are a delight to explore. Not to be missed is the luxurious Hotel de Ville (city hall) and the Place de la Bourse with the old Customs House and Stock Exchange. St. Emilion is not just a wine designation, the heartland of Merlot, but it is also one of the most charming French villages.

of the fashionable West End shops. London wears its 2,000 years of history and dignity well. You will find skyscrapers next to remnants of the city's Roman wall. Buckingham Palace and the Tower of London highlight the royal status of London. Whether it is your first visit to London or one of many, England's capital is sure to capture your heart with undeniable charisma.
